Kolhapur's shops lose a delivery day as stranded trucks clear

● NETWORK: AMBER

BEFORE DIWALI · DHANTERAS TODAY · 2 DAYS TO DIWALI

For e-commerce, D2C and consumer-goods teams delivering orders and stocking shops through Diwali.

Cane growers lifted their blockade of NH-48 late on Thursday night, after Kolhapur's sugar mills came close to their price[1,2]. By the end, the count of stranded trucks had passed 600. So is Diwali saved? For most of it, yes: the loads that sat there miss Dhanteras, but should land before Sunday's puja.

● GREEN normal for peak week: busy, but delivery promises hold
● AMBER something is slowing deliveries beyond normal peak
● RED deliveries largely stopped across a state or city, or a courier embargo on the route

DATES THAT MATTER

- Since Sun 1 Nov Delhi admits outside goods vehicles only if BS-VI, CNG, LNG or electric[3]
- Until Thu 12 Nov Pune's old-city markets take goods vehicles only at night
- Sun 8 Nov Kolkata keeps goods vehicles off its roads for Kali Puja
- Mon 9 – Wed 11 Nov Kolkata curbs goods vehicles for the immersions
- Tue 10 – Sat 14 Nov Gujarat's markets and transport shut till Labh Pancham

The highway is open again, and its backlog reaches north Karnataka by the weekend

West, South · NH-48 from Satara to Kolhapur, and the Belagavi and Hubballi hubs beyond it

AMBER · MEDIUM COST OF DELAY · MEDIUM CONFIDENCE

Raju Shetti called it off once the mills offered ₹3,900 a tonne up front and up to ₹300 more later, and Kolhapur's collector is to put that in writing for Sangli and Satara too[1]. Until then police had let only short stretches move and stopped everyone at Kini, the toll plaza at the heart of the protest. Police cleared the plaza within minutes of the call-off and traffic moved again[2]. Mind you, nobody has yet reported how fast the queue is clearing on Friday morning.

- NH-48, Satara to Kolhapur West · +1 day Loads held since Tuesday now start moving in one go. I'd expect parcels into Kolhapur and Sangli to run a day late on Friday, with their hubs caught up by Saturday night.
- Belagavi, Hubballi and on to Bengaluru South · +1 day Mumbai and Pune loads that were held on the stretch reach these hubs a day behind the ones sent after them. I'd expect them in on Saturday, and out to the shops before Diwali on Sunday.

DECISIONS TO MAKE

For e-commerce and D2C teams

- Parcels that sat on the stretch have lost Dhanteras, but new orders into Kolhapur, Sangli and Belagavi pin codes can still carry a Sunday promise, my estimate, if they leave Mumbai and Pune today.

For FMCG and consumables distribution

- Shop top-ups to Kolhapur and Belagavi sent on the reopened road today should arrive Saturday, my estimate, one day ahead of the Diwali puja buying.

What next: Bagalkot's growers plan their own blockade of the Hubballi–Solapur highway at Gaddanakeri Cross, asking ₹5,500 a tonne, with no date yet[4].
