Cyclone Murasu costs the Chennai–Kolkata corridor two delivery days

● NETWORK: AMBER

BEFORE DIWALI · 4 DAYS TO DHANTERAS · 6 DAYS TO DIWALI

For e-commerce, D2C and consumer-goods teams delivering orders and stocking shops through Diwali.

Four days before Dhanteras, Murasu is due to come ashore near Bapatla early on Tuesday, and IMD has red alerts out today from Krishna down to Nellore[1]. And the worst of the rain? Turns out it falls on the Chennai–Kolkata highway and at Vijayawada's junction, on the last good shipping days before the 6th. Delhi's first day of turning away older goods vehicles queued the Gurugram border.

● GREEN normal for peak week: busy, but delivery promises hold
● AMBER something is slowing deliveries beyond normal peak
● RED deliveries largely stopped across a state or city, or a courier embargo on the route

DATES THAT MATTER

- Since Wed 21 Oct Delhi on Stage I of GRAP, its pollution action plan[2]
- Until Thu 12 Nov Pune's old-city markets take goods vehicles only at night
- Mon 2 – Tue 3 Nov Cyclone Murasu crosses the coast near Bapatla
- Tue 10 – Sat 14 Nov Gujarat's markets and transport shut till Labh Pancham

Murasu comes ashore near Bapatla, on the coast's main road and railway

South · Coastal Andhra, the Krishna delta and Telangana's road to Vijayawada

AMBER · HIGH COST OF DELAY · MEDIUM CONFIDENCE

The state now expects Murasu to cross near Bapatla on Tuesday morning, under IMD red alerts from Krishna to Nellore[1,3], so a load that misses Monday likely waits till Wednesday.

- Bapatla, Guntur and Prakasam, on NH-16 South · +2 to +3 days The storm comes ashore where NH-16, the Chennai–Kolkata highway, runs beside the east-coast railway. I'd expect both to slow or stop from Monday night, and parcels here to arrive Friday at best.
- Vijayawada and the Krishna delta South · +2 days Vijayawada's own district sits in Monday's heaviest rain band too[3]. Northbound trucks bunch up at Vijayawada when the coast road shuts, so I'd expect city and delta orders to arrive two days late, around Thursday.
- Khammam, Suryapet and the Hyderabad–Vijayawada road (NH-65) South · +1 day Telangana expects heavy to very heavy rain in Khammam and Suryapet on Monday and Tuesday[4], so I'd expect Hyderabad's loads to Andhra on NH-65 to run a day late.

DECISIONS TO MAKE

For e-commerce and D2C teams

- Orders for Guntur, Bapatla and Prakasam booked from Monday likely miss Dhanteras on Fri 6 Nov, my estimate, so promise them for Diwali instead; Khammam and Suryapet need one extra day.

For FMCG and consumables distribution

- For shops in Guntur, Bapatla and Ongole, the sweets and dry fruits already in town are likely the Diwali stock; a top-up sent after Monday reaches them by Thursday at best, my estimate.

Delhi's borders with Gurugram, Noida and Ghaziabad

North · Day one of the BS-VI rule: queues at Sirhaul

AMBER

On Sunday the Delhi-bound side of NH-48 queued for nearly a kilometre at Sirhaul as police checked papers[5]. Delhi's police sent back 714 of the 7,279 vehicles they checked, not saying how many carried goods[6]. I'd expect NCR vans to wait an hour or two at the border each morning, so Dhanteras top-ups run late unless they start earlier.

CALLS I'LL CHECK NEXT MONDAY

1. IMD reports Murasu crossing the Andhra coast between Nellore and Narsapur by the morning of 3rd November[7].
2. Delhi moves to Stage II of GRAP, or stricter, before Monday 9th November[2].
3. On 9th November, regular trains from Bihar to Delhi for the 17th still have waiting lists over 100[8].
